Happenings at Headquarters

January 25, 2004

We send you greetings in the name of Jesus. The February Advocate will be mailed tomorrow if the weather permits. We are presently under a winter storm warning. We have completed the third quarter Quarterlies, and they have been sent to the foreign fields. The Quarterlies were audited by the post office this time, and we were found to be in complete compliance. We have been experiencing a rather cold winter so far this year.

The web page is growing. We release new updates once a month just before the new Advocate is mailed. The new web page is then released at the same time we mail out the new Advocates. The third quarter Quarterlies will also be on this new update. We are working on the web page right now by completing the proof reading. A Spanish section is being added to the web page this time, and you will be able to access back issues of the Spanish Advocate and the current Spanish Quarterly, as well as, previous Quarterly issues. A real handy feature of the web site is the concordance. It, too, has been enhanced. The address for the web page can be found at the top of this letter in the letter head. The updated web page will be released tomorrow. Ben is our web page engineer.

The company that supplies our negatives for printing has informed us that those negatives will be no longer available. Consequently our negative developing machine will no longer work for the new kind of negatives that we must purchase. This meant we had to buy another developer for the new negatives at an expense of over $2,000.

We hope this letter finds you well. We have gotten over some flu this month, and we are now better. We wish to thank you for your continued support. Please keep us in your prayers.

Yours in Jesus's name,
